Hi Friends & Neighbors,

Remember the old saying, "April showers bring May flowers?" Well, March and April have been virtually shower-free. We are currently 20+ rain events behind normal, so please water! My recommendation is an early summer watering schedule: watering 4-5 times per week and more as it gets hotter.
Not only has it been dry, but it's been windy as well.
Wind removes even more moisture from lawns and plants. Because of these conditions, lawns are really stressed. Be good to your lawn, flowers, shrubs, and trees. They all need water!

If you're having sprinkler problems, and you're unable to fix them yourself, you most likely will need to drag a hose for awhile. It seems almost every company that repairs sprinkler systems, us included, has a long wait list for people needing repairs. Do your best, and pray for some rain. We need it!

So May is not only known for flowers, it's also known for Mother's Day. I've got a mom and so do you. At least one thing they all have in common...well, they are women. I wanted to highlight three women I have met lately and one I have known for a bit.

Speaking of sprinklers, I witnessed the coolest thing the other day. I was treating a brand new customer's property. When I went into her backyard to treat it, there she was, threading one inch galvanized pipe into the anti-siphon valve of her sprinkler system. I was blown away.
This was a major DIY project she had going on. She proceed to tell me all of the stuff she had done herself in her 60-year-old home, from flooring to major remodels. Her secret: YouTube and elbow grease.

A few days later, I met a woman who, with her husband, had built one of the first two homes on Rifle Club Road. They did it all while living in the basement with four kids until it was finished. Today her tribe includes four great-great-grandchildren with a fifth on the way. In a few weeks she will teach a bunch of Boy Scouts about gardening for their Merit Badges.

Then I met Joyce. She and her husband had done ministry together until age 80. Meeting her for the first time the other day, this 89-year-old woman simply glowed with kindness and the goodness of Jesus. She even took the time to speak encouraging words over me.

There have always been strong, kind women.

Last newsletter I spoke of heroes. These 3 women, and finally my wife, partner, and best friend, Lisa, are everyday heroes. Living Water runs deep with Lisa's kindness and bravery. Right now we are short-handed, and there is Lisa in her own spray truck, sharing the load with our other 50 team members because that's what is needed.

So happy belated Mother's Day. The Bible says, "God made them both male and female...in His image." I sure am glad He did.

'Til next time,
Mike
